

Chief Executive Officer

Stawell Regional Health

Stawell Regional Health (SRH) provides a broad range of acute and sub-acute health, community programs and residential aged care services to a population of approximately 12,000 residents across the Northern Grampians Shire. This diverse range of integrated health, community and residential aged care services is provided from modern facilities and supported by a cooperative team of health professionals and visiting specialists. Our facilities include inpatient ward, operating suite, urgent care centre, community rehabilitation, day stay oncology services as well as a range of community programs. SRH also operates Macpherson Smith Residential Aged Care facility as well as the Stawell Medical Centre General Practice.

The Board are now seeking a high calibre health executive for this important position. The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for implementing the strategic direction of SRH, as determined by the Board, as well as ensuring safe and effective health services are provided to the community. This role requires an energetic and experienced individual that can help lead this dynamic and innovative organisation.

To meet the requirements of the role you will have post-graduate tertiary qualifications in health management or a business related field. You will need to be able to demonstrate strong and effective leadership abilities, organisational and interpersonal skills and experience in both human resource and financial management. Knowledge of funding and current government policy and direction of acute, residential aged care, community and primary health care services are also required for this position.

An attractive remuneration package will be negotiated with the successful applicant.
