About Central Highlands Rural Health

Our Purpose:

Best care to every person every time

Who We Are:

We are a leader and trusted steward for rural health, recognised for delivering appropriate metropolitan quality services in a rural setting.

We balance deep local engagement with the benefits of our independence with regional decision making, and proactive participation in broader regional health networks.

CHRH has a strategic quality framework that we call 'Best Care'. Best care is defined as care that is Personal (person centred), Safe (no harm from service provision) Connected (integrated with other services and communicating well) and Right (based on the evidence).

Central Highlands Rural Health (CHRH) has played an important part of the Macedon Ranges and Hepburn Shire communities for more than 160 years. They provide various healthcare services to people living in rural areas, with campuses in Clunes, Creswick, Daylesford, Kyneton and Trentham.

This includes hospitals in Kyneton, Creswick, and Daylesford, aged care facilities in Daylesford, Trentham, and Creswick and community nursing and community health services across our campuses.

The community is made up of a mix of rural and peri-urban populations. They have long-time residents, people who have moved to enjoy a rural lifestyle, and commuters who travel to nearby cities like Ballarat, Bendigo, and Melbourne. About one-third of the community lives in rural areas.

They value and support the diversity within the community and understand that different people have different needs and lifestyles.

Living In the Central Highlands region

The Hepburn and Macedon Shires offer a diverse community and the area renowned for indulgence, relaxation and its spectacular mineral springs, heritage buildings, parks, reserves and native forests. Located in central Victoria and ideally situated within easy access to Melbourne, Ballarat and Bendigo, it is a fabulous place to visit, live and work.

The region is known for its delicious food and wine, mineral springs, wellness retreats, beautiful walking trails and annual events and festivals.

There are a variety of markets that take place throughout the Shire, including the weekly Daylesford Sunday Market and a host of monthly markets in Creswick, Clunes, Trentham and Glenlyon.

The region has a rich cultural history which began with our Traditional Owners and has been enriched by migration during Victoria's gold rush era. This cultural diversity is celebrated through festivals and events and preserved through museums and historical societies.

The region offers a blend of beautiful natural landscapes, a temperate climate, and a strong community life with proximity to Melbourne. Residents can choose from various housing options, including period homes and rural retreats, while enjoying excellent local amenities like schools, sports facilities, cafes, and cultural events.

The region is well-connected to Melbourne by public transport and car, making it a popular choice for families and those seeking a "tree change".
